

INDIAN SCHOOL SALALAH

The aim of the education is to stimulate optimal development of a child in all domains- educational, personal, social, moral, physical etc., to make them independent, productive and useful citizens. Guidance and counselling helps to achieve aim of education, it aims to facilitate maximum personal development of a child in all domains of life. School counselling service is mainly focused on three distinct areas- personal/social, educational and career development.

A school counsellor helps to develop academic, social, behavioural or emotional need of students for their educational success and wellbeing with in the school setting. School counsellor work in collaboration with the teachers, parents, and special educators to create a healthy learning environment that makes students feel comfortable. They also help to provide specific solutions to student with particular problems. Academic success is important to the educational process, however it is not the only area students can excel in. By molding thoughtful, empathetic and forward thinking of students, Student counsellor provides them with a greater opportunity for success in all walks of life.
