ENERGY GLOBE AWARD 2019 BAGGED BY INDIAN SCHOOL SALALAH

A ninth-grade Indian School Salalah student in Oman,

Samved Nambiar has won the National Energy Globe Award, a globally renowned prize for environmental conservation, for his stewardship of Oman's environmental beauty and natural resources. Samved Nambiar is currently the youngest recipient ever to receive the Energy Globe.

The winners, in the categories of Earth, Fire, Water, Air and Youth, are selected by a panel including members from the United Nations Industrial Development Organization World Bank and the European Renewable Energy Council. The awards were an initiative by Austrian engineer and environmentalist Wolfgang Neumann. The herculean status of the Award often equates it to Nobel Prize.

The project submitted by Samved Nambiar, a student of Indian School Salalah, was aimed at raising awareness about the negative effects, mankind's certain activities have on the environment while also suggesting possible solutions for them. He has been an environmentalist since elementary-school having co-founded Project Green World International, (at the age of seven) an international organization encouraging children to take environmental action, with his elder brother, Hridith Sudev. Through his work, Samved Nambiar has led numerous efforts to protect the planet and have come up with campaigns to further his goals as well. The Energy Globe Award is the latest recognition his work has garnered.

With 187 participating countries, the Energy Globe Award is today's most prestigious environmental award and the award signed by environmental activist, Maneka Gandhi and Energy Globe Founder, Mr. Wolfgang Neumann is awarded annually to projects focusing on energy efficiency, renewable energies and the conservation of resources.

Master Samved was appreciated by the acting President of the school management committee, Dr. Syed Ahsan Jamil and Principal Mr. Deepak Patankar everyone. In the upper primary (Classes III & IV), the school choir sang a melodious yet powerful patriotic song that could so gently stir up hearts and make everyone radiate the love and concern they had for the country. The speech given by the trio Mast.Siddarth, Miss. Hamna Nishthar and Miss. Hanna Alex mesmerized the audience and brought a strong spirit of patriotism amongst the children. The highlight of the occasion was the declamation done by a few students who were wearing their favorite freedom fighter's costume. Children witnessed Pandit Jawarhal Nehru, Nethaji Subash Chandra Bose, and Baghat Singh. Primary In-charge Mrs. Anita Rose in her address expressed her happiness on seeing the students dressed in their traditional costumes. She extended her gratitude to all the parents for their efforts and enthusiasm in taking part in the celebrations. She delivered a speech on importance of freedom which instilled in the young minds the need of freedom in life. She also claimed that though all of them were attired by different colours and cultures, they were all one and that they had to continue to nurture this beautiful unity in diversity. In the recess the traditionally clad young patriots flooded the quadrangle in a disciplined manner and marched around waving the tricolor flag to the songs "Mile sure mere thumara" and "Vande Mataram" with smiles that could make even stones melt. Students of the senior classes watched this beautiful happening in awe and happiness from all the floors of the school. Their marching lit up the whole school's vibe and brought about a strong aura of patriotism and joy.

each other. The resource person explained the assessment of learning, assessment for learning and assessment as learning. The afternoon session by the resource person Dr. Shwetha Singh, Joint Secretary, Academics, CBSE, explained on the types of assessment. She enlightened the teachers on how a good test item should be.

Session on Teaching in Multicultural environment by Dr. Shwetha Singh, Joint Secretary, Academics, CBSE started with brainstorming session on definition of culture. The situation of teachers who face multiculturalism in their classes, their challenges and constraints with cultural integration and differentiation of children were discussed. Dr. Ameeta Mulla Wattal, Principal, Spring Dales school in the noon session insisted that teachers must strive to understand their students in a holistic way.

Session on Classroom management commenced with interesting activities for teachers followed by discussions on classroom management. The Pre-lunch sessions by the resource person Dr. Indu Kheterpal, Principal, Salwan public school Delhi mainly focussed on the various components of effective classroom management and conduct management. The Post-lunch session by the resource person

Dr. Sudha Acharya, Principal, ITL public school, Delhi included explanation of different tips and techniques that educators need to adopt for effective classroom management.

Session on Inclusive education was conducted by Dr. Sandeep Kumar Jain, Deputy Secretary, Academic, CBSE and Dr. Sudha Acharya, Principal, ITL Public school, Delhi. During the session, the teachers learnt how to assess the children with learning problems, behaviour modification, how to make learning material for special needs children and different ways to help children with learning problems. The resource person said that the teachers have to help the special children by understanding the child's emotional and psychological perspective. The best gift to the children is to educate them with love and compassion.

All the teachers who attended different sessions were given handouts to have an in depth clarity about the subject. At the end of the session, group photographs were taken along with the respective resource persons.

All the teachers who attended the two day capacity programme had a purposeful and exhilarating learning experience. This initiative of BOD will definitely enhance the knowledge and skills of the teachers and help them to grow as professionals.

IS SALALAH LAUNCHES ITS FACEBOOK PAGE ON TEACHERS' DAY

The management of Indian School Salalah hosted a 'get together' for their teachers on Thursday, 5th September in Hamdan Plaza to celebrate Teachers' day.

During the celebration, Dr. Syed Ashan Jamil, President of SMC accompanied by Principal Mr. Deepak Patankar officially inaugurated and launched the facebook page of Indian School Salalah, which will be a closed group.

The launch was done with the uploading of a video about the school prepared by students of class XII.

Dr. Jamil in his address expressed that the objective of this facebook page is to have real time communication with parents. He also wanted all the hard work, achievements and efforts of the teachers and students to be highlighted. Principal in his address to the students in the morning invited all the students to log in and respond.

HOD of Comp Science department and his team were appreciated by one and all for the launch.
